American Journal of Physiology
Renal Physiology

Scope of Journal
The American Journal of Physiology-Renal Physiology covers all areas of renal physiology, including:

- original, innovative research on the kidney, urinary tract, and their respective cells and vasculature
- thought-provoking investigations involving human and animal models, individual cell types, and isolated membrane systems
- cross-disciplinary papers on the pathophysiological basis of disease processes in the kidney, the urinary tract, and in the regulation of body fluids
- timely editorial reviews

Authors are required to submit papers online at www.apscentral.org.

Reader & Author Benefits

- Fully searchable text, including PubMed
- Rich color and sharp resolution of figures
- Editor’s Home Page at www.the-aps.org/publications/ajprenal
- FREE access to the extensive collection of back issues available online 12 months after publication
- FREE e-mail notification of new content as it becomes available
- Manuscripts online within days of acceptance
- Perpetual/Electronic Archiving of the LOCKSS and CLOCKSS systems preserves the electronic content of all APS journals.

Authors can choose to pay $2,000 on top of regular author fees and have their article made free immediately.

The American Physiological Society (APS) and the Women in Physiology Committee are pleased to announce their partnership with MentorNet, an award-winning one-on-one mentoring program.

MentorNet's Academic Career E-Mentoring Program matches graduate students, postdocs and untenured faculty members in physiology with experienced scientists for an 8-month mentoring relationship conducted via e-mail.

MentorNet also offers a Résumé Database for students seeking jobs or internships.

Any APS Member or nonmember (of any status) can be a mentor in this program. However, to receive the benefit of coaching and guidance from a mentor, you have to be an APS Member with the status of "trainee or early career".

CALL FOR NOMINATIONS

for the Editorship of

Physiological Genomics

Nominations are invited for the Editorship of the Physiological Genomics to succeed A. W. Cowley, Jr., who will complete his term as Editor on June 30, 2009. The Publications Committee plans to interview candidates in the Fall of 2008.

Applications should be received before August 15, 2008.

Nominations, accompanied by a curriculum vitae, should be sent to the Chair of the Publications Committee:

Kim E. Barrett, Ph.D.
9650 Rockville Pike
Bethesda, MD 20814-3991

CALL FOR NOMINATIONS

for the Editorship of

American Journal of Physiology-Gastrointestinal and Liver Physiology

Nominations are invited for the Editorship of the American Journal of Physiology-Gastrointestinal and Liver Physiology to succeed M. Montrose, who will complete his term as Editor on June 30, 2009. The Publications Committee plans to interview candidates in the Fall of 2008.

Applications should be received before August 15, 2008.

Nominations, accompanied by a curriculum vitae, should be sent to the Chair of the Publications Committee:

APS Guide to Wine Appreciation
...or how to convince your friends that you know more about wine than you really do.

by Peter D. Wagner, MD, University of California-San Diego, La Jolla, California
(Paperback 52 pages, October 2007—Excerpts from the book are below)

Excerpts From The Book

CHAPTER 1: Preamble—general considerations

What’s a preamble? A bit like priming the pump, a pre-systolic accentuation in mitral stenosis perhaps. Fat Albert’s rocket-assisted takeoff (footnote: Fat Albert is the C-130 transport that supports the Blue Angels, and if you don’t know what a C-130 is or who the Blue Angels are, may your Dean have pity on your soul).

Point 1: Wine appreciation should be done in parallel, not in series.

Point 2: No matter what type of wine, no matter how good or bad it actually is, no matter how experienced a taster you may be (or think you may be), you must remember this (not the song): There are TWO parts to the appreciation of wines.

Point 3. Don’t be seduced by the label, or the price or (especially) the reputation of a particular wine.

Point 4. A closely parallel warning: Don’t be influenced by your fellow tasters, not even by me.

CHAPTER 2: The Process of Evaluation of a Wine—step by step

PART 1: Do you like the damn stuff or not?

PART 2: Why you like or hate the damn stuff. Science rules, sort of.

CHAPTER 3: The Most Common Grape and Wine Varieties—their features as wines

There are many styles of grapegrowing and winemaking that provide a wide array of attributes in the finished wine, even wines from the same grapes in adjacent regions. What follows describes the classical, expected, stereotypical features of each, especially as they apply to U.S. wines.

CHAPTER 4: The Conduct of a Wine-Tasting Session—how to run it

Remember, you do not need to know anything at all about wine or tasting to succeed here. All you need is courage, bravado, and a proficiency in public speaking (which you have all gotten anyway from years of teaching graduate and medical students).

Remember—the more forcefully you speak, the more enobabble you use, the more your reputation grows even if you are flat out wrong in everything you say. It’s not what you say, it’s how you say it.
THE APS JOURNAL LEGACY CONTENT is an “online package” of over 100 years of historical scientific research from 13 American Physiological Society (APS) research journals.

- It can be purchased separately at a one-time charge for perpetual use. This Legacy Content is FREE to APS Members ($2,000 for nonmembers).
- It is a separate program from the Subscription Program in that you pay once for the perpetual access to the online content from all APS journals from 1898 to 1996-1998, depending on the journal (see chart below). This content goes back to the first issue of each of the APS journals—including the American Journal of Physiology, first published in 1898. This legacy content can be viewed as completely searchable scanned images of the printed pages.
